Revised investment forms now online

June 3, 2016

Hello,

This message should have been sent to you at the end of April, before the launch of our revised investment forms. Changes to our forms were initiated to provide more information to meet Anti-money laundering requirements and this information was posted on Repsource. We apologize for any inconvenience this has caused and have altered our deadline to accept old investment applications until June 30. Please access the full article, below.

New fields have been added to some investment forms to identify the industry and occupation of the policy owner (industry and business for entity owners).

If you have any questions about this message, please contact the Customer Service Centre.
